

UFO-phenomenon will be publicly disclosed?" We were very sceptical about the UK Government's commencement of opening up the MOD and Police UFO archives. We were reminded that similar announcements from the government of Chile, Brazil, Belgium, and several different countries, ended in nothing. The ufologists always get handed some pieces of the 'sheep's cheese' but the 'honey and bacon' were still kept back. The discussion moved onto a very disturbing tone. We should fight for the Truth of UFOs, exactly like Poles fought with the communist regime for their freedom and national unity. Now, in 21st century we must fight for this truth of the UFO-phenomenon. I think that those words were the most important ones expressed during that Conference. If it turned out that Contact with Extraterrestrials is something more than the day-dream and the devout wish of the ufologists, I am sure that only education and the free exchange of information can prevent the globalization process and one world government realizing Orwell's vision of a people held captive and manipulated by deception.

Aerial Dolphin over Filey?

I was sitting in the crescent gardens in Filey. It was the day of Filey's Edwardian festival 06/07/02. I had been sat waiting for about 20 minutes when a number of friends arrived. Like me they had seen a number of UFOs over the years. I was looking towards Filey Brig when I noticed an object elevated above the trees.

We all saw the object at the same time. I had my video camera with me so I started to film the object. The object seemed to be the size of a large car; the object then elevated even faster than before. Jodi asked me if I had it in view, and could I make out what it was. I zoomed in on the object and I could not believe my eyes. I told the group that the object looked like a dolphin. At first I thought it was a balloon but it was too big. As it was the festival I thought it may be some kind of advertising. The sighting started at about 12.49pm and lasted for about four minutes.

I was sat in the same spot all afternoon, my friends went in for a while and I stayed in the same place. On their return we talked about the dolphin object, Jodi told me that he had looked around town but he had not seen another dolphin balloon on any stalls. As we sat, we could not believe our eyes, the object was there in the same place as before. I looked at the time through the viewfinder It was now 15.45pm; this could not be a balloon, not in the same place for two and a half hours. There was a holiday campsite called the blue dolphin about 2 miles away, could it have been advertising for the coming season?

I rang the local news paper on the Monday to see if anyone had rang in about the sighting, I was told that no one had been in touch about the sighting. The paper put in a small piece asking if any one had seen the object. I had three people ring me to say that they had lost a dolphin balloon, but no one gave me the right time or the colour that we saw on the object. I then rang the campsite to see if they had been advertising their campsite using a balloon on the Saturday, their secretary told me no. I remember the weather had been slightly breezy on the day of the sighting, but even if it had been a balloon, to be in the same place high in the sky for two and a half hours is very unlikely. Besides the object was last seen ascending upwards into the clouds. So if it was the same object it would have had to have come back down in the intervening period.

Possibly the strangest,

UFO ever to have appeared on camera was taken by Southern Paranormal Investigations, West Leigh, Hants, UK on 19/06/08. Nothing was seen at the time of taking this picture, (random shots were taken on the off-chance using a new Leica camera, model deluxe 3 D/LUX3), although another SPI member claims to have briefly witnessed the very same object next day.

The weather was still and dry both days. What on earth is this thing? I would say that the object is certainly not a bug, nor a plane, or a balloon. Even more mind-boggling is that the enlargement reveals obvious pitting or crater-like marks which can be seen on its surface. As described, the 'thing' was not visible, but was picked up by digital camera what does this very important fact alone tell us? Some people have tried to tell me that this is nothing but a helicopter such as a Euro-copter NH90, perhaps a 101 or possibly another type of heavy lift bird maybe a CH53. Here is a frame grab of a Euro-copter as suggested, shown against the UFO. Nice try, and close with the tail/appendage, but I don't think so! Where are the rotor blades for a start, and what about all those spots, holes or craters on the surface of this thing? We have jokingly nicknamed this "The Flying Whale", which it resembles slightly more than a chopper. How about a blimp then? Again, the 'skin' of this UFO and its general shape are so bizarre and bear little relationship to any sort of man-made airship that I know of!

It all happened in an instant!

Sometimes a small ambiguous event may be spotted by a curious researcher and become a new area of enquiry. Just such an incident appeared on camera at 21:56:33 on August 17th 2000. I was filming a very bright ball of light moving North to South at the back of my house with a sky-watching colleague named Keith. After a couple of minutes I asked Keith if he would like to take over filming the object, he said yes so I pulled up the eye piece and could see the object with the naked eye. It was at this point I saw a flash and felt heat on my face. I told Keith I needed to carry on filming the object as something untoward had just occurred.

I eventually looked at the video in the afternoon. I observed the ball of light moving from North to South with buildings in the background. As I was pausing to speak to Keith the ball of light just goes out of sight for a second, you can see a house with a land rover parked out side and the light comes in to the top of the frame, its only when you play the video in slow motion that you realise there are four balls of light coming down in a matter of a second, this was during the flash when I felt the heat on my face and it felt cold like a chill. As you can see from the pictures, the encounter with the balls of light lasted less than a second but that's all it takes to come under close inspection. I am familiar with visual artefacts and lens flare and can assure the reader that it is none of these things.

Commentary by FSR: The idea that extraordinary UFO events occur in fractions of a second was apparent in the David Tickle UFO footage taken in the early 1990s, dubbed Stonehenge. This film showed multiple aerial phenomena happening across Salisbury plain in fractions of a second. This millisecond timescale is also seen during the last 50 years of Canadian contactee Dorothy Izzet's film of sudden co-ordinated movements by aerial light sources also evident in the photos taken by Steve Lippman in the 1960s and 70s. This sudden phenomenon of movement and position also occurs in British UFO contactee Robert Koore Fooker's light ball film.

The question needs to be asked if the millisecond timescale is yet another major barrier to the investigation of UFO infiltration and cover up that prevents the public from becoming fully aware of the truth. It also becomes highly relevant to the fact that the research that individuals report on in their own UFO encounters in the same way, that the events may work outside our normal perception of time altogether. This means that the events are not encounters, yet the phenomena are real. The research that does not report on the time and duration anomalies is a major barrier to the investigation of UFO infiltration and cover up. We have heard of many UFO sightings and photographs for hundreds of years, but they do not match the phenomena of the completely different and more complex phenomenon. When the events are witnessed, the phenomena are real. The events are not encounters, yet the phenomena are real. The research that does not report on the time and duration anomalies is a major barrier to the investigation of UFO infiltration and cover up.
